THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Late from Utah Territory.

Death of a Prominent Mormon.—The Island Galt Train—Breadful Suffering and Desolation—Cold Weather.

A letter from Great Salt Lake City, dated December 4th, which we find in the New York Tribune, contains the following interesting news:

The Mormon Church has lost one of its main pillars by the sudden death of Jedediah M. Grant, second counsellor of Brigham Young, Mayor of this city, and member elect of the Legislature. He died on the night of December 1, and was buried this morning with all the honors of the church.

Mr. Grant was a native of New Hampshire, and was about 40 years of age at the time of his decease. Of moderate literary attainments, in which he enjoyed somewhat the advantage of his associates in the presidency, he was one of the most talented men among the Mormons. Very sarcastic and abusive in his discourses, and a perfect adept in the school of billingsgate, he was always noted as a most bitter reviler of the Gentiles. It was only a few Sundays ago that he denounced them most violently, and said that he was ready to take his bowie-knife in hand and chase them out of the Territory; but he has now gone to his last account, leaving seven disconsolate widows and several children, four of whom are under eight weeks of age, to mourn his loss.

It is not known who will succeed Grant, his successor being appointed by Brigham.

Another of the hand-cart trains arrived here last Sunday in a condition which bugged all description. Winter caught them in the mountains destitute of clothing and provisions, and bad not the relief which was sent from here reached them, every one of them would have perished. As it is, out of the 500 which started, one-fourth have died, and more than 100 of the remainder have lost their hands or feet from the effects of the cold. When they reached here there were not 50 in the train who could help themselves; the rest were stowed in the bottoms of the wagons which had been sent for them, ragged and filthy beyond conception; helpless and despairing, they could or would not get out of the wagons to attend the calls of nature, and if the weather had not been intensely cold it would have bred a pestilence. I never imagined such a scene. Heaven preserve me from witnessing such another. And yet the Deseret News has the effrontery to tell the world that they came through well.

It is said that there are yet hundreds of these poor, deluded wretches in the mountains. A few days ago an express reached here from an ox-train which is encamped on Green river. Their cattle had given out, and they were bare of provisions, being obliged to feed on their dead cattle. Some forty wagons, with provisions, have gone to their relief, to endeavor, if possible, to get them into Fort Bridger.

The weather has been very cold for a month past, and a great deal of snow has fallen. The winter set in at least a month earlier than last year, and has been, if not more severe. If it continues so there will not be much stock left in these valleys next spring.

There have been already more than fifty applications made to Brigham for divorces by women who arrived in the first immigrant trains. It seems that on their arrival here, when they were yet ignorant of the ways of Zion, a great many of the Mormon gentlemen came to them, and picking out those of the women which suited them, immediately made them their "spiritualites;" but these poor girls soon found out what it was to live with the saints as slaves, and now endeavor to obtain divorces. This will simply be jumping "out of the frying-pan into the fire," for they will be compelled to take, or be taken by some other man, and their condition will not be bettered.

A Bloody Tragedy.

Attempt at Murder and Suicide—A shocking event occurred in Cincinnati on Monday evening at half-past five o'clock, whereby a man in a temporary fit of insanity, after an attempt to take the life of his wife, nearly severed his head from his body. The Commercial of Tuesday gives the following particulars:

Michael Gold lived nearly opposite the county jail with his wife and two children. A cooper by trade, he was always recognized as a sober, industrious man, and a careful provider for his family. About a week since he was thrown out of employment, but previous to this he had been occasionally subject to a slight aberration of mind, which since he had left work appeared to increase. Yesterday morning, at the hour above stated, he complained of being a little unwell and expressed a purpose of going out, from which he was dissuaded by his wife. He then got out of bed and went to a chest at the further end of the room, which he opened and took therefrom a razor and a jack-knife, and upon his wife inquiring what he wanted to do with them, he replied that he intended to cut some bread. There was, however, an intense glare in the eyes which terrified his wife, and springing from the bed she hastened towards him in time to catch his arm as he was about making a dash at his throat with the razor. Upon this he plunged the knife which he held in his left hand into the right side of her abdomen, and at the same time cut her hand with the razor. The poor woman contrived to escape from the room to that of a neighbor, when the wretched man perpetrated the act of self-destruction, by drawing the blade of the razor across his own throat, cutting through the jugular, and almost severing the head from the body, and when, in two minutes after the horrid affair, the room was entered, he was found lying upon the floor, with his head resting upon the edge of a tub.

The bloody drama created intense excitement in the neighborhood, and the coroner was sent for, who, after summoning a jury, proceeded to examine into the particulars, when a verdict in accordance with the above facts was rendered. Mrs. Gold was yesterday considered in a very precarious state, although hopes were entertained that the wound would not prove mortal.

Death from Insanity—Dr. H. F. Hughes, of Catoosa, Mo., a gentleman of brilliant talents, and one of the best physicians in Missouri, was found dead in the road by some tenant, near St. Louis, last week.

It is supposed he died while laboring under an attack of mental aberration, as he was found in the road, where it was plain to be seen he had struggled violently. Of late he had been subject to mental derangement.

The State Legislature has passed a joint resolution to adjourn for about ten days, to attend the inauguration of President Buchanan.

Shocking Murder of a Female.

The Body Burned.—Arrest of Her Husband.—The Toledo Commercial of the 18th ult., relates the particulars of the murder of the wife of Return J. M. Ward, in Sylvania, Ohio, on the 18th ult. It appears that Ward had been in the habit of abusing his wife, who once left him on account of his brutality. She disappeared from his house on the 3d, and Ward told his neighbors that she had left him again.

A letter from Great Salt Lake City, dated December 4th, which we find in the New York Tribune, contains the following interesting news:

This will simply be jumping "out of the frying-pan into the fire," for they will be compelled to take, or be taken by some other man, and their condition will not be bettered.

A merchant coucheted by a California Widow.—A few evenings ago a shocking affair extraordinary took place at one of the fashionable boarding houses in New York. It appears from the Tribune that there were some 60 boarders, including merchants with their wives and children, and several clerks. Among the female was a charming "California widow," about whom one of the merchant-boarders had put in circulation some unpleasant reports. The Tribune says:

The lady paid no attention to the reports until one of a more virulent nature than the rest was circulated, when she made up her mind to cowtide the individual, and communicated her intention to some of the other boarders whom she counted as her friends. She had set the day and time at the dinner table.

The day arrived, but for some reason the dinner was later than usual, an occurrence that caused a more general assemblage of the family. The bell at length sounded, and owing to the lateness of the hour great haste was made by all to the dinner-table.

About fifty persons were already seated, and among them the merchant—unconscious merchant! In a few moments the injured woman entered. She approached the merchant and demanded before the company a retraction of the scandalous reports he had circulated, and an apology.

Refusing to retract or apologize, she drew from the folds of her dress a strong cowhide, which she applied with a will to his head and shoulders. So severe were the blows that his face was completely marked lengthwise and crosswise with red lines. Some of the ladies screamed and were sorely agitated, and many of the gentlemen remonstrated; but the lady paid no attention, but still dealt her blows vigorously upon the head of the offending merchant. At length one of the gentlemen interfered and wrested the cowhide from her hand. The victim was removed to his room, where he was confined several days, in consequence of the mutilation of his physique.

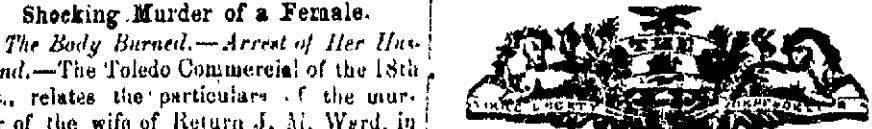

Death of the Sultan of Muscat.—Advices from Zanzibar of Nov. 25 state that the Sultan of Muscat died on the 18th October, on board her Britannic Majesty's frigate Victoria, when on his passage from the capital to Zanzibar. He was sixty-nine years of age, and leaves twelve sons and a number of daughters. His third son, Prince Mutassef bin Said, has assumed the charge of Zanzibar, Pemba, and the coast part of his father's possessions. He is an excellent man, about 24 years of age, and has been Governor of Zanzibar the past two years and a half. The Sheikhs and all the principal Arabs at Zanzibar have acknowledged Mutassef as their Sultan.

There was no disturbance at Zanzibar when the intelligence of the death of his highness was received. It is probable that Prince Theeween, the eldest son, will be the Sultan of Muscat. He is about thirty-five years of age, a great warrior, but is not at all popular with the Arabs and Banians at Muscat. It is more probable that his neighbor, the East India Company, will relieve him of the trouble of governing the inhabitants of Muscat.

Death from Insanity—Dr. H. F. Hughes, of Catoosa, Mo., a gentleman of brilliant talents, and one of the best physicians in Missouri, was found dead in the road by some tenant, near St. Louis, last week.

It is supposed he died while laboring under an attack of mental aberration, as he was found in the road, where it was plain to be seen he had struggled violently. Of late he had been subject to mental derangement.

The State Legislature has passed a joint resolution to adjourn for about ten days, to attend the inauguration of President Buchanan.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL
GETTYSBURG:

MONDAY, MARCH 2, 1857.

We neglected to mention last week that a Target-shooting by the "Blues," took place on the 21st of February. The prize was the beautiful Silver Medal presented to the Company a short time ago by Col. MARCUS SAMSON. The best shot on the occasion was Mr. PHILIP DOERNER, who received the medal.

The ladies engaged in the late Festival, realized about $250 above expenses. This is a very handsome sum in the furtherance of the object they have in view.

The answer to the Enigma in last week's "Sentinel," is "The Stars and Stripes of America."

Sudden Death.

Mrs. LAFFERTY, wife of Mr. CHARLES LAFFERTY, of Petersburg, (V. S.) died during the night of Friday last, without the consciousness of her husband, who was repose by her side. She had been ill health for some time past; but nothing, on the evening previous, indicated more serious symptoms than usual. Her husband, in awaking in the morning, found her in "that sleep which knows no waking" upon earth. She leaves several children.

Another Change.

After the mid weather we had for some days, Old Winter has resumed his authority; and although the Almanac declared yesterday the beginning of Spring, we find they were for once in error; for last evening and all night were anything else than balmy and Spring-like. Next to the night of the great snow-storm, it was the most like-like time of the season. We hope the old adage may be true, that "when March comes in like a lion it goes out like a lamb."

On Sunday night of the snow storm, (Jan. 18th,) one of CHRISTIAN CHRONISTER'S Turks was driven by the violence of the gale from the roof, and took shelter in the garden, where it was driven over to the depth of about four feet—and where it remained until the seventh day of February, a period of nineteen days and nights, without food!

The announcement of the death of WASHINGTON MCPHERSON, a few weeks ago, was incorrect. Mr. W. wo understand, is not only still living, but has no idea, for the present, at least, of "shuffling off this mortal coil."

Extra Session.

The President of the United States has issued his proclamation convening the U. S. Senate in extra session, at 12 o'clock, M., on the 4th of March, "to receive and act on such communications as may be made to it on the part of the Executive."

Death of Dr. Kane,

The Legislature of this State, on the reception of Dr. Kane's (the great Arctic explorer) death, unanimously passed the following resolution:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from the scenes of this life our distinguished fellow citizen, Dr. Elijah Kane; and it seems peculiarly proper that such an eminent man as thus removed from among us, that there should be some demonstration of public regard: Therefore,

Resolved, That in his death the Commonwealth has lost one of its most distinguished sons, whose early death will be regretted as far as his name is known, and as a mark of respect to his brilliant talents and exemplary character this House do now adjourn.

Dr. Kane is a native of Pennsylvania, and son of Judge Kane, of Philadelphia. He died at Havana, whither he had gone to recruit his health, which had been affected by his great exposures in the Arctic regions.

The Legislature adjourned on Friday last until Monday the 9th of March.

State Treasurer.

The Committee of Conference of the two branches of our State Legislature, have reported the 11th of March, as the day for going into an election of State Treasurer.

Simon Green, who was to have been executed at Harrisburg on Friday last, was respite by the Governor until the 27th.

The Planets.—Jupiter and Venus, being now in conjunction, present a beautiful appearance in the south-western part of the heavens, early in the evening. Venus, although the smaller, from her greater vicinity to the earth, is the brighter of the two.

Death of a Missionary.—The American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions has received intelligence of the death of the Rev. Eli Smith, D. D., one of their most prominent missionaries in Syria, who died a short time since in Beyrouth. In addition to his missionary labors, Dr. Smith was engaged in translating the Scriptures into Arabic. He had completed the New Testament, the Psalms, and part of the Pentateuch. The deceased was the son of a clergymen in Connecticut, and had been engaged in the missionary work many years.

The State Legislature has passed a joint resolution to adjourn for about ten days, to attend the inauguration of President Buchanan.

State Convention.

A call signed by all the American and Republican members of the Legislature, has been issued for a State Convention, to be held in Harrisburg, on Wednesday the 25th instant, to nominate candidates for Governor, Canal Commissioner, &c. The call invites union of "all who are opposed to the Extension of Slavery into the National Territories and to the other equally obnoxious principles of the incoming National Administration, as announced in the Cincinnati Platform; who are opposed to the Union of Church and State, and to the exclusion of the Bible from our Common Schools, and in favor of protecting the ballot-box from the corrupt influences by which the will of the people was defeated in the recent State and Presidential Elections."

On Wednesday next, the present session of Congress will close, and Mr. Buchanan's administration be inaugurated. The new Cabinet, it is rumored, will be composed as follows: Secretary of State—Lewis Cass, of Michigan, Secretary of the Treasury—Howell Cobb, of Georgia, Secretary of War—John B. Floyd, of Virginia, Secretary of the Navy—Aaron V. Brown, of Tennessee, Secretary of the Interior—Jacob Thompson of Mississippi, Postmaster General—Wm. C. Alexander, of New Jersey, Attorney General—Ivan Toucey, of Conn.

J. Glancy Jones, of this State, was offered the post of Postmaster General; but it is said that he declined, in consequence of opposition in certain sections of the Democracy to his appointment.

SENATOR SUMNER arrived at Washington on Wednesday. His health is still feeble, but he was anxious to appear in his seat in the Senate before the close of the session. He sails for Europe in a few days, to facilitate the benefit of his health.

In the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, the Speaker (Mr. Geitz) charged that a person holding a seat on the floor of the House as a Reporter, had attempted improperly to prevent the passage of three bills, asking $300 to withdraw his opposition. Messrs. Longaker, Petriken, Thorne, Gilbert, and Struthers were appointed a Committee to investigate the matter.

We learn from Harrisburg that the Committee on Banks on Thursday reported the bill to incorporate a Savings Fund Institution in this place, with a favorable recommendation.

DEATH OF DR. KANE.—Dr. KANE, the celebrated Arctic explorer, died at Havana, on the 16th ult., whether he had gone for his health. His disease was the consequence of the hard-hips and exposure to which he was subjected during his last expedition. Though a comparatively young man, he died in the fullness of his fame, and his memory will be inseparably linked with honorable renown. His remains will be brought home.

Chas. Lynn was married in Evansville on Tuesday of last week, had a congestive chill on Friday, died Saturday, and the minister who solemnized his marriage was required on Sunday to convey his remains to his last resting place. Truly in the midst of life we are in death.

Murder in Frederick County.—On Wednesday last the body of James Digg, a colored man, was found inside of Upton Worthington's field, about a quarter of a mile from Urbana, Frederick county, Md., with his throat cut, and various other wounds upon his person. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the dead was perpetrated by Philip Hawkins, also colored.

Resolved, That in his death the Commonwealth has lost one of its most distinguished sons, whose early death will be regretted as far as his name is known, and as a mark of respect to his brilliant talents and exemplary character this House do now adjourn.

Although the day has been stormy, the court has been crowded, a very large number of whom were ladies. The ladies, both old and young, bring knitting, crochet and sewing work with them, and the hall presents (aside from the trial) quite a busy appearance.

A correspondent at Townsville, Maryland, gives some details regarding the prices of farms in Baltimore county, of which that town is the county seat. He says that the country is traversed by a number of limestone valleys, and that there is a large proportion of excellent farming land within its borders. A good farm in these valleys well improved, will sell for $100 per acre, while on the ridges between them the price varies from $12 to $60.

Land just south of the Pennsylvania line is selling at from $20 to $80 per acre, while that over the line, which is only imaginary, is worth almost twice as much. Baltimore county is about 40 miles long, extending from the Pennsylvania line to Chesapeake bay, and possesses a population of upwards of 40,000.

Fatal Trap.—Near Troy, Bedford county, Pa., lately, a woman had been annoyed by the mysterious disappearance of her butter from the premises, without being able to detect the thief. At last she procured a quantity of stry

The Nightmare.—An Incident in an Alderman's Office.

Louisa Schlegelmilch, a young and pretty German woman, appeared before one of our Aldermen yesterday morning, as a witness against her husband, Frederic Schlegelmilch. Without emotion, she told the following story:

"Last Friday night she retired as usual with her husband. She had been asleep but a few hours, when she was awakened by blows from the fist of her husband. He had wakened, and evidently in a fierce rage, was dealing blow upon the person of his pretty wife. She attempted to rise, and as she lifted her arm her wedding ring glistered in the beams of the gas-light, which looked through the window upon the strange scene.

That ring Mr. Schlegelmilch determined to possess himself of, and upon announcing his intention, a contest for the prize ensued. The husband finding the wife almost as strong as himself, procured a rope and undertook to tie her. Her wrists were soon bound together, and the next moment, with a triumphant grunt, the husband—oh! the brute!—entwined the hempen cordage around his wife's—other limbs! Mrs. Schlegelmilch could resist no longer. The husband clutched the wedding ring, and securing it on his own finger, left the house, locking the doors after him." How the imprisoned lady released herself she did not deign to tell!

Alderman.—Well, Frederic, you have heard the complaint of your wife—what have you to say for yourself?

Frederic.—I can aix help it. I gets him disease—rat—rat—rat is him? I—yaw—

Alderman.—Indeed! Do you get it often?

Frederic.—Oh yaw, much times.

Louis.—(Interrupting)—Yes, yes. Dre four dimes he makes aix me dat yaw

Frederic.—Yaw, I gets der nightmare much.

Alderman.—Too much, I think. A litte close confinement will prove beneficial; I will commit you to prison. Take charge of him, Mr. Officer.

Down below went Myrae Schlegelmilch, while his pretty and beloved wife, once more the possessor of her marriage ring, started homewards. What a dreadful thing it must be to have a husband afflicted with such a nightmare.—Phil. News.

Our Present Fashions.—The other day we read in a letter from Paris, an announcement that the Empress Eugenie had thrown off her hoop'd skirt, and thought that it would have the effect of diminishing ours. Not so, however, as ours appear to be extending, instead of diminishing. On passing up Chestnut street yesterday, we noticed several of an unusual size. Indeed, on one occasion, we were obliged to take the curbstone for the purpose of getting past an immense mass of floating silk, through which we thought we recognized the form of a female. Numerous incidents and anecdotes are recorded, in which gentlemen have been made lame in consequence of coming in contact with the whalebone skirts of ladies, to all of which we gave but little credit. A few days ago a case of the above kind actually came under our notice.

Arrest of a Supposed Murderer.—On Tuesday of last week, a warrant from the Sheriff of Fairfield county, Ohio, was placed in the hands of Sheriff H. H. Manderbach, of Berks county, commanding him to arrest and lodge in prison Christian Romich, upon the charge of being concerned in the murder, by poisoning, of a man named John Caley, living in said Fairfield county, O. H. It was mentioned in the writ that Romich, the accused, was supposed to be at the home of his sister, in Douglass township, Berks county. Sheriff Manderbach at once proceeded to the place indicated, where he found Romich and arrested him. The prisoner was lodged in the Berks county prison, subject to the orders of the Ohio authorities. He surrendered without the least resistance. On Saturday an officer named Emanuel A. Richards, arrived, bringing with him a requisition from the Governor of Ohio, for the body of Romich.

It seems that the murdered man Caley, and his wife, were originally from Montgomery county, as also Romich, now under arrest. Some time last December, Caley suddenly died, but nothing was thought of the matter, until the behavior of Romich and the wife of the deceased, led to suspicions that foul play had caused the death of Caley. Romich was an innkeeper in the vicinity of the house occupied by the deceased, and being on rather intimate terms with the wife before and after the murder, there are strong suspicions that the husband was poisoned by the pair; after taking up the dead body, a large quantity of arsenic was found in the stomach. Mrs. Caley is now in prison at Fairfield, and her trial and that of her paramour, will probably take place at the May term of Court.

WHITE TEETH, PERFECTED BREATH & BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION—can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice, would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know that their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Beware of confectioners—Philadelphia News.

A Mystery Exploded.—About five years ago an intelligent boy of fifteen years committed suicide in Troy, N. Y. Time passed, and the melancholy affair was forgotten. Recently, however, his spirit was summoned at a "circle" of spiritualists in that place, and made the startling revelation that instead of destroying his own life, it was taken from him; during his sleep a nail was driven into his heel, whence no blood could flow, and he awoke in the spirit world. As a cause of the murder, he stated that he had discovered criminal relations existing between a man unknown and his own mother, who is still living, and that the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Beware of confectioners—Philadelphia News.

VIRGINIA LANDS FOR SALE.—I WISH to dispose of TWO TRACTS OF LAND, lying in the county of Frederick, Va., sixteen miles southwest of Winchester, and containing

One Thousand Acres,—five hundred acres of which are cleared, one hundred acres in Meadow, and the remainder in valuable TIMBER. This tract can be advantageously divided into Two Farms, as there are

Two Comfortable Houses,—Barns, Sheds, and every necessary Out-building. There is also a FULLING AND CARDING MILL, turned by a never failing stream of water, and now in operation.

These lands are well watered by springs or streams in every field, contiguous to three graded roads, and churches of various denominations, and eight miles from Capon Springs.

This property belongs to a number of heirs and will be sold at the reduced price of $125 per acre. One third of the purchase money to be paid in hand, and the remainder in installments to suit the purchaser, by the payment of the interest annually.

If the above property is not disposed of at private sale before Friday, the 1st day of April next, it will on that day be offered at PUBLIC SALE; or, if not sold, it will be RENTED.

For particulars, address the subscriber at Council, Va., Warren County, Va., or any person wishing to look at the property will be shown it by JAMES A. RICHARDS, residing near it.

Smart Dog.—A dog in Pawtucket, R. I., was noticed, the other night, to be making frequent trips back and forth between a certain barn and other parts of the village. A closer watch showed that he was stealing hens—catching them in his mouth by the neck, and carrying them where his master was in waiting. He had evidently been trained to it.

NOTICE.—We owe the invention of balloons to the much abused system of ladies' hoops. It is well known that they are not original with the present generation, and during their prevalence in the last century, as one of the fashions of Paris was bringing one of them to dry, gathered and fastened at the waist, she accidentally placed a pot of burning charcoal beneath, and in a few minutes was surprised to see it rise in the air and gently sail off. One of the brothers Montgolfier, then an apprentice boy, was a witness of the phenomenon, and from it conceived the idea of a balloon, which was at first filled with heated air.

R. R. R.—TUBERCLES.—ON THE BRINK OF THE GRAVE.—Sarah Hammond, 198 3rd Street New York:—

"I was taken with a bilious, then followed pain in the chest, hoarseness, sore throat, dryness in the throat, and pains all down my right side, and across my shoulders; by and by began to break up little slabs of bright stuff, and when I would lie down my cough would trouble me. I kept taking physic of one kind & another, it only served to make me weak and increase my cough. Six months after I first began to sweat at night, I blotted out this frightful note: the doctors told me I had the consumption and must die; but Dr. Green, the great Nitro- or Silver doctor, put a prophydavum thro' my throat, and told me we would take cycles on the upper side of my right lung, after that several tubercles were beginning to form on my lungs. The more nitrate of silver he squirted down my throat the more I would cough. I tried this method a long time, until I got myself growing weaker & weaker, and my friends said it was on the brink of the grave. A girl who lives in this house, works in your factory, told me what wonderful cures you were using, and brought me up a bottle of Ready Relief and Rovent. I rubbed my throat and chest with the Ready Relief, and the Resolvent in doses of a dessert spoon. Soon I gained strength, my cough left me in a few days entirely, and the pains in my chest and shoulder ceased the first night; no more phlegm was mixed with my spit, nor was there any more thick in after expectoration. When you saw me you told me I had no consumption, but my difficulties were all owing to the cold & coughs. Your words were proved true. I am now well, and weigh heavier than I ever did; I am a true believer in the R. R. R. Yours truly,
